...ves ... from Paine's Celery Compound.

for professional men have had the hard, helpful, successful career of Rev. George C. Perry of Chicago.

A native of Philadelphia, he became an honor man of Kenyon college; was admitted to the Ohio bar and licensed by the supreme court of Illinois; served as U.S. chaplain under Gen. Davidson in the civil war. He edited the Pacific Churchman in San Francisco and became rector of Trinity church in that city; in 1870 took charge of St. Paul's, now the pro-cathedral of Springfield, Ill. He now is the second senior priest by residence in Chicago. He writes the following letter:

Chicago, Ill., April 7, 1897.

Messrs. Wells, Richardson & Co.:

Dear Sirs—Having suffered severely from sleeplessness during the winter, last month I began taking Paine's celery compound as the urgent instance of a friend who recommended it very highly. I took it its beneficial effects, and deem it especially an excellent remedy in such cases as mine. I feel that I freely send you this testimonial and commend its use to my clerical brethren.

Yours truly,

Henry G. Perry.

Paine's celery compound can be trusted to make one well. The enthusiastic accounts from near friends and relatives whom it has cured of kidney and liver troubles, of a general "run-down" state of health give assurance to thousands of the marvelous power of this greatest of remedies.

A thorough building up of the disordered nervous system follows the use of Paine's celery compound. It dispels harmful humors from the blood, and increases its volume, and at the same time its nourishing capacity. The power of Paine's celery compound over dyspepsia, kidney diseases, headache, kidney derangements and other disorders, is unquestioned by the most competent authorities.

Don't suffer from headaches, despondent spells, melancholia or any form of depression that comes from indigestion or liver disorder. Trust Paine's celery compound. You will not be the first person, nor the second, nor the hundredth, nor the thousandth, it has permanently and speedily cured of the same trouble.

The nervous system when deranged is like a clock without a balance wheel that goes too fast and strikes every few minutes. The nerves need to be regulated or they quickly "run down" just as a clock would do. The regular, unhurried-tic-tic-tic of the heart means that it is working in a healthy manner. Palpitation and throbbing point to a dangerous lack of nerve force, that sooner or later will lead to fatal heart failure.

At the first indication of deficient nerve force be it heart trouble or nervousness, Paine's celery compound should be used to supply the needed vigor, build up the waning vitality, drive out disease and guard against future mischief.

Greek Cabinet to Sign It With Some Conditions.

Understood that Germany Advocates Evacuation of Thessaly.

Powers Advise Greece to Accept the Demand of Turkey.

Rumored from Constantinople Peace Preliminaries Agreed To.

Athens, June 4. The cabinet decided this evening to sign a peace armistice on the following conditions:

The Greek fleet will quit Ottoman waters. Vessels, under the Turkish, or neutral flags, bound to or returning from Turkish ports and vessels north of the armistice line will not be examined. Vessels carrying troops and munitions of the Turkish army will not be allowed to enter ports south of the line. The Turkish fleet must not leave the Dardanelles. The despatch of reinforcements to garrison towns in the archipelago is prohibited.

Russia in Sympathy.

London, June 5. It is officially stated that Count Muravieff, the Russian foreign minister, has expressed to the Greek minister at St. Petersburg his personal sympathy and his hope that Greece will be able to save the harvest in Thessaly.

It is also understood that Germany now advocates the evacuation of Thessaly, provided Greece gives a satisfactory guarantee of payment of the indemnity.

But there is still every indication that Turkey means to retain in Thessaly.

Several Turkish officials, accompanied by their harems, have arrived in Thessaly from Constantinople.

The powers have advised Greece to accept Turkey's demand and to raise the blockade, Greece in return insisted upon some guarantee that Turkey will keep her promise not to land munitions of war. It is therefore still uncertain whether the armistice difficulty will be settled.

It is rumored from Constantinople that the peace preliminaries have been agreed to; but this probably means that the ambassadors have been invited to submit drafts of details.

THE BOSTON GAS EXPLOSION.

Commissioners Attach Responsibility to the Gas Company and Construction Co.

Boston, June 4. The Massachusetts board of gas and electric light commissioners this afternoon presented to the legislature its report on the investigation which has been holding for several weeks past into the explosion on the corner of Tremont and Boylston streets, in this city, just before noon of March 4th last, by which ten persons lost their lives and nearly 50 were more or less injured.

The report attaches responsibility to the Boston Gas Light Co. and the Metropolitan Construction Co. John Ly Commissioner Arkes, the chairman, and Commissioner Schaff agreed upon the report, but Commissioner Gifford was not altogether satisfied with their finding and he filed a separate report.

This is the report of the third investigation of the disaster. Judge Ely after an inquest on the death of one victim, declared the gas light company responsible, Fire Marshal Whitcomb's report after an investigation did not place the blame.

District Attorney Stevens has said he would take no action in the matter until the commissioners' report was received.

Dr. Allen Has Criminal Record.

Boston, June 4. Dr. Samuel J. Allen, who is under arrest at White River Junction, charged with shooting H. M. Dufer of Montpelier, was found guilty of killing Bell House, in a saloon on Howard street, in this city, Feb. 4, 1885, and was sentenced to serve a term of five years in the state prison at Charlestown. The deed was committed during the previous May.

It resulted from a quarrel over change laid upon the counter by the bar keeper. The defense at the time of the trial was that the killing of House was the result of the accidental discharge of a pistol in Allen's hands, but the jury found a verdict against Allen.

The counsel in the case were Attorney General Sherman and District Attorney Stevens for the prosecution, and Gen. B. F. Butler and Wm. B. Gale for the defendant.

New Law Unconstitutional.

Philadelphia, June 4. Judge Hanna of the orphans' court this afternoon decided that the new direct inheritance tax law is unconstitutional.

This law was recently passed by the legislature as a revenue measure and was expected to add between $600,000 and $1,000,000 annually to the revenues of the state.

The case will probably be carried to the supreme court for a final decision.

Colby Men May Go North.

Waterville, Me., June 4. Lieut. Peary delivered his last lecture of light before starting on his Arctic trip. There is a prospect that a small party of Colby students may accompany him.

SHOWERS.

With a Prospect of Clearing.

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, WEATHER BUREAU.

Local Forecast.

Boston, June 4. Forecast for Boston and vicinity for Saturday: Showers, followed by clearing weather; winds shifting to southwesterly and westerly.

SLEEPY, DULL, LANGUID and morose, is the way you feel when your liver fails to do its work properly; in consequence you suffer from indigestion, biliousness and dyspepsia. You have an "don't care" spirit and are played out; feeling, and everything tires you. To set the liver in action, purify and enrich the blood, and to strengthen and vitalize the whole system, take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Having a peculiar tonic effect upon the lining membrane of the stomach and bowels, it makes a lasting cure of all stomach, liver and bowel disorders. By increasing the blood supply, as well as enriching it, all the organs of the body are strengthened, and the nerves are fed on pure, rich blood.

Neuralgia is the cry of the starved nerves for food; nervous debility and exhaustion, sleeplessness and nervous prostration are in most instances the direct result of a starved condition of the blood. The true way to cure these ailments permanently is to take the "Golden Medical Discovery," which was discovered and prescribed by an eminent physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, at present and for near thirty years chief consulting physician and specialist to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y. If you want a medical opinion on your case, write him. It will cost you nothing.

BASE BALL.

Bangors Won by a Run at Rockland Friday.

Some Good Work by the Queen City Team—Newell Was in the Box.

Belfas Defeated Lewiston 25 to 15, and Portland Won from Augusta 9 to 2.

Rockland, Me., June 4. Rockland bagged in the ninth this afternoon but too late to overcome the lead of the visitors. Wiley pitched for the home team and barring the seventh inning, when he was hit quite hard, did creditable work. Newell was steady at critical stages. The features were the batting of Trainor and Fitzpatrick and the fielding of Flack and Mackey. Attendance 400. The score:

Belfast 25, Lewiston 15.

Belfast, Me., June 4. Belfast won today by terrific batting, scoring 13 runs in the first two innings. Kelley, the Lewiston pitcher, was knocked out of the box in the first and was replaced by Conroy who suffered the same fate. The batting and second base work of McDermott were exceptionally good. The features were the batting of Collery, Webster and Hill of the local team, the splendid first base work of Regan and Lezotte and the terrific home run drives of Regan, Hill and Lezotte. Score: Belfast, 25; Lewiston, 15. Hits, 23 to 13. Errors, 3 to 4. Batteries, Carrivean and Gaston; Kelley, Conroy and Edgar.

Portland Defeated Augusta Again.

Augusta, Me., June 4. Portland played all around Augusta today and won in a canter. Augusta tried Wells, a Brockton phenom, in the box, and he proved a fizzle, being batted out of the box. Weekes replaced him in the fifth and Portland made but two singles. The features were the batting of Delaney and Palhemus, and Daisell's work at short. Attendance 400. Score: Portland 9, Augusta 2. NEWS.

Senate Made Little Progress With Tariff Bill Friday.

A Good Deal of Talk on Matters Long Ago Settled Finally.

Lively Colloquies of No Account Took Up Valuable Time.

Only Two Pages of Bill Gotten Through With During the Day.

Washington, June 4. The senate had a period of speech making today and as a result little progress was made on the tariff bill. The advance covered about two pages, or seven paragraphs, and brought the Senate up to the wool schedule, the first item of which was considered but not completed.

Mr. Mantle (Mont.) spoke for two hours on the wool schedule, urging increased rates for the wool grower, and Mr. Butler (N. C.) made a plea in behalf of an income tax.

Mr. Butler had no sooner started than he was involved in a lively colloquy with Mr. Cullom (Ills.). The North Carolina Senator referred at the outset to recent supreme court decisions on the income tax and on the anti-trust law. He added an expression of surprise at the indecent haste with which the pooling bill was being urged before Congress immediately after the decision of the supreme court on the anti-trust law.

This aroused Mr. Cullom, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee now considering the pooling bill, to a spirited reply.

The Senator from North Carolina was making statements about which he knew nothing, said Mr. Cullom. The pooling bill had been before Congress for months before the supreme court decision and it sought to strengthen the Interstate law. He resented the statement of "indecent haste" and said such a characterization was a misrepresentation of facts.

Mr. Chilton (Texas), another member of the committee, here took a hand, joining issues with Mr. Cullom. Mr. Chilton said he had been on the committee for two years and he had never known of the pooling bill being pressed until after the recent supreme court decision against railway pooling.

He differed in toto, he said from the chairman of the committee that the pooling bill sought to strengthen the law. In his judgment it would destroy the interstate commerce law, and the passage of the bill would be a fatal experiment.

Mr. Butler, resuming, said Mr. Chilton's statement had fully justified his original assertion, and he would leave it to the public to judge whether there was innocent haste. He would, he said, insist on the consideration of a measure authorizing an income tax, before any pooling bill was before the Senate. He declared that the pooling bill was in the interest of the most gigantic trust in existence, compared with which all other trusts are pigmies.

The consideration of the tariff bill by paragraphs was then begun. Lead ore, lead dross and metallic mineral substances, (170 to 181 inclusive) were passed over.

The mica paragraph (182) led to a contest. Senator Pettigrew (S. D.) moved to increase the rate by adding a specific tax of 10 cents per pound in addition to the rate in the bill of 10 cents ad valorem.

Mr. Pettigrew spoke of the mica deposits of South Dakota, which he said could not be properly developed without the increased rates proposed. Mr. Chandler (N. H.) also urged the absolute necessity of an ample duty on mica in order to develop the rich mica deposits in this country, as against East Indian mica, produced with labor costing 20 cents a day.

Mr. Pritchard (N. C.) proposed a substitute fixing the rate on rough mica at 15 cents per pound and on cut mica at 30 cents per pound.

The substitute was accepted by Mr. Pettigrew.

Mr. Vest resisted the change, saying that one of these rates was five times the Dingley rate, and the other was ten times the Dingley rate. He presented a letter from Edmund Weston, an authority on electrical affairs, saying that mica was an essential raw material to the electrical industry, and that the class of mica requisite for this service could not be found in the United States.

When the fraud of undervaluation in mica was referred to by Mr. Pritchard Mr. Gray stated that the best means of stopping a fraud was to make mica free. He referred to enterprising Americans who had gone to Greenland and developed mica fields there and who were now to be shut out.

Mr. Lodge (Mass.) urged that the rates proposed were essential to offset the cheap labor of the Indian mica sent to this country and he characterized Mr. Gray's proposition as free trade in its worst form.

This brought out a speech from Mr. Pettigrew which attracted much interest in view of the doubt as to his attitude toward the bill. The issue of free trade and protection was settled forever in this country, he declared. No political party would ever again come to power on an issue of free trade and no Senator would ever enter the Senate on a platform of free trade.

Senators might speak in favor of free trade for South Dakotans, he said, but they would not favor it for their own industries. The issue was now a contest over schedules only, and it had ceased to be a question on which two great political parties could be divided. The great issues before the people today did not relate to schedules but to the greater questions as to whether a government of plutocracy and corporations shall take the place of the rule of the people.

After further discussion, the mica paragraph again went over, also nickel.

The succeeding paragraph relating to pens, penholder tips and pins was agreed to as reported.

The quick silver paragraph was contested. Mr. Allison offered a committee amendment raising the rate to seven cents a pound.

Mr. Vest and Mr. Jones (Ark.) opposed the amendment and Messrs. Stewart (Nev.) and Perkins (Cal.) supported it. The committee amendment was agreed to.

On type metal, Mr. Jones (Ark.) moved to reduce the rate from 1½ to ¾ of a cent on the lead in such type metal and from 25 per cent. to 15 per cent. on new type. The amendment was disagreed to—yeas 18, nays 28.

Watches, watch movements, etc., (189) went over at the request of Mr. Lodge.

In the zinc paragraph (190) Mr. Allison proposed a committee amendment reducing the rates from 1½ to 1 1/16 per pound on zinc in blocks or pigs and from 2¼ to 2a per pound on zinc in sheets.

Mr. Vest protested against the proposed rates, saying that there were zinc mines in Missouri and he had not heard that increased duties were desired.

Mr. Allison said the rates were necessary and were in the nature of a compromise, midway between the McKinley and Wilson rates.

Mr. Vest moved to substitute the Wilson rates on zinc. Rejected, 18 to 28.

Mr. Allison's amendment and the paragraphs as a whole were agreed on.

On paragraph 191, covering articles of metal, not otherwise provided for, Mr. Jones moved to reduce the rate from 45 per cent. to 35 per cent.; rejected, 29 to 30. This brought the Senate up to schedule D, relating to wood and manufactures of wood.

On paragraph 191 covering timber, hewn, sided or squared on round, timber used for spars or in building wharves, Mr. Allison moved a committee amendment increasing the rate 1/10 per cubic foot.

Mr. Gray asked why timber was taken from the free list, to which Mr. Allison responded that the first reason was to raise revenue and the incidental reason was to afford protection to a vast industry.

Mr. Gray answered that the millionaire owners of timber lands were not mendicants, and there was no reason why they should receive a toll wrung from the American home builders. He protested against it, also because it placed a premium on the destruction of our own forests, particularly our white pine.

Mr. Allison's amendment was agreed to, but the paragraph was not finally disposed of when the bill was laid aside.

The House amendments to the bill to prevent collisions on inland bays and waters of the United States, except the great lakes, was agreed to.

At 5.10 the Senate held a brief executive session and then adjourned.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Most Important Statistical Investigation Ever Made of Business Failures.

New York, June 4. Bradstreet's publishes today the results of the most important statistical investigation ever made concerning business failures in various lines of trade. It covers the past three years and the summary of its results presents the total number of failures in lines of business in which there were ten or more annually during the three years named. Purely commercial enterprises, wholesale and retail are seen to furnish 70 per cent. of the business failures each year and manufacturing embarrassments about 20 per cent.

Out of the increase of nearly 2,100 failures in 1896 compared with 1895, 1,135, or more than one-half, were of retail concerns. The counting of the total number of individuals, firms and corporations in business in 37 groups of the more important lines of trade is an unprecedented work. These totals constitute what may be termed the business population of the country in these lines and permit with the totals of failures in these lines the calculation of the commercial death rate in the department or lines of business specified. This record shows that in 1896, 77 out of every 1,000 clothing concerns and 51 out of every 1,000 bicycle houses failed in business.

The two lines had relatively the greatest commercial mortality last year.

The rate throughout the country in all lines last year was 14 commercial deaths out of every 1,000 in business. Commercial failures were relatively most numerous after the two lines specified among manufacturers of or dealers in hats, furniture, glassware, dry goods, notions, woolens, jewelry, lumber and hardware. After that the rate of embarrassment approximated more nearly the normal.

Dun's Review.

R. G. Dun & Co. in their weekly review of trade will say: The statement of failures in May by branches of business gives much encouragement. In amount of defaulted liabilities the month was the smallest since September, 1895; in manufacturing liabilities the smallest since November, 1895, and, in trading liabilities, the smallest except the last month since September, 1894. Failures of general stores have not been as small in any other month as in May, 1897.

In only two months out of 36 have there been smaller failures in boots and shoes and miscellaneous trading, only 4 in boots and shoes, only 5 in groceries and not one trading class in that month has reported failures larger than in half the preceding months, though furniture failures were rather numerous. In clothing manufacture, the month was the smallest except four out of 36, except 6 in chemicals, 6 in woolen goods, 7 in machinery, lumber and miscellaneous manufactures, and exceeded the average only in iron and cotton goods and earthenware, owing to a few failures of exceptional size, which nobody can mistake of such returns.

The statement that, excepting for the temporary depression in prices, the volume of business transacted is now larger than it was in 1892, the year of the greatest prosperity—has been questioned by some. But a comparison of prices this week in the leading branches of manufacture not only confirms that view, but shows a remarkable similarity to the course of prices in the earlier months of 1892, when the most wonderful advance in production and prices ever known in this or any other country was close at hand. The key of the situation is the excessive production of some goods in advance of an expected increase in demand.

So in 1892 consumption, gradually gained month by month until suddenly it was found that the demand was greater than the possible supply. All know how prices then advanced and the most marvellous progress in this story of any country resulted within two years. Reports from all parts of the country now show that retail distribution of products is unusually large and increasing.

There is no improvement in the market for farm products. Cotton is not higher, nor is there any satisfactory demand for woolen goods, and the sales of wool for the week have been only 6,835,000 pounds and for the five weeks 34,011,400, against 28,800,100 in the corresponding weeks of 1896.

The boot and shoe manufacturers have a larger business also, in part, because many have made the concessions in price reported last week. Shipments from the East for five weeks have been 339,754 cases, against 339,260 last year.

The iron industry is apparently expanding production and accordingly growing larger contracts in part, because of very low prices, one cent being made for beams.

This is very firm in spite of a visible supply of 34,476 tons at 13.5 cents, and there are large dealings in copper, not above 11 cents for lake. Lead is in fair demand at 3.26 cents and tin plates are still selling at $3.30 for full weight American.

Crop prospects are so good that the rumors customary at this season have no attention. The receipts at western points are 2,058,795 bushels, against 2,000,475 last year and the Atlantic exports, flour included, were 2,365,797 bushels, against 2,330,852 last year.

The enormous surge of corn continues, receipts having been 5,831,024 bushels, against 2,600,884 for the same week last year, and the exports were 1,920,656 bushels against 1,200,316 last year.

Failures for the week have been 241 in the United States, against 234 last year, and 32 in Canada against 29 last year.

CHANGE IN THE RULE.

Appointments to Postoffices Likely to Come Along Lively Now.

Washington, June 4. The rule announced shortly after the administration assumed charge that postmasters would be allowed to serve out their full terms unless removed for cause is modified and it is expected that wholesale appointments to postoffices will be made soon.

It was officially announced today that the President and Postmaster General will consider as having expired all postoffices which are due to expire between now and July 15.

It is understood that the matter was discussed and the decision reached at today's cabinet meeting. The reason assigned for the modification of the announced policy of the administration is that it is the desire of the Postoffice Department to fill as many offices as possible before the expiration of the fiscal year July 1st, in order that accounts may be begun with the new quarter.

Oldest Newspaper Man Gone.

Indianapolis, June 4. Wm. F. Clark, Sr., is dead. He was supposed to be the newspaper worker and editor of longest continuous service in the country. With the exception of three years he had been identified with the press since his 14th year and was 88 years of age.

His house at Mercer, Pa., was formerly a station on the underground railway that took negroes to Canada.

Found Guilty of Libel.

Salem, Mass., June 4. In the O'Sullivan libel case at 10.20 o'clock tonight the jury returned a verdict of guilty upon all three counts of the indictments.

A GREAT DOWNPOUR.

Terrific Storm in Nashua, N. H., Friday Afternoon.

Hundreds of Houses and Severe Factories Flooded in Short Order.

Lightning Struck in Several Places—Much Damage Done There.

Nashua, N. H., June 4. The severest storm that has raged in this city for many years began at 2 this afternoon and in half an hour 1¾ inches of rain fell.

Hundreds of houses were flooded and damage to private residences will amount to many thousands.

At Esterbrook & Eaton's shoe shop the engine room was flooded and the shop had to shut down. At Gross & Tolles' lumber shop the engine room and cellars were flooded.

The stock of Chamberlin Patten & Co., drygoods dealers, was badly damaged. At the Whitney cafe the water was 3 inches deep on the floor and the Lunch cafe was thoroughly wet down. Lightning struck trees and barns and ran to a house. In many cases where bathrooms are located on the second floor the back water from the sewer flooded the house. Over 600 hens were drowned.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Our Monetary Commission.

Paris, June 4. It is learned from an authorized French source that the letters of credence presented to President Faure by Senator Edward O. Wolcott, of Colorado, and his colleagues of the United States Monetary Commission, former Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, and Gen. Chas. Jackson Paine, of Massachusetts, are accredited plenipotentiary to France, Great Britain and Germany, with the mission, in concert with the United States ambassadors to these countries, to discuss monetary questions and come to some agreement on bimetallism.

President Faure carefully avoided making a statement to them at the audience which he accorded to the commissioners at the Elysee Palace on Wednesday last which might be interpreted as a promise to take any steps in the matter.

French President to Visit Czar.

Paris, June 4. It is announced that the date of M. Faure's departure for St. Petersburg to pay a return official visit to the Czar has been definitely fixed for July 25.

He will travel by sea and will be accompanied by M. Hanotaux, the minister of foreign affairs.

British Ship Abandoned.

London, June 4. The British ship Kinkina, Capt. McMurray, from Vancouver, B. C., March 10th, for this port, encountered a violent storm on the North Pacific ocean and became so disabled that she was abandoned May 1, in lat. 40, long. 160.

Part of her crew reached Acapulco, on the west coast of Mexico, yesterday, and the remainder are safe at Clipperton Island, about 400 miles off the coast.

Reported Murderer Not Confirmed.

Washington, June 4. No confirmation of the reported murder by Indians of Ronald H. and Peter M. Dorland, at Mount Wanetach, in the far West, has been received at the Indian office.

The man reported killed were formerly of Oakville, Canada.

True Bill Against Luetgert.

Chicago, June 4. The grand jury this afternoon returned a true bill against A. L. Luetgert, the rich sausage maker, charging him with the murder of his wife. The indictment will not be returned until to-morrow.

SATURDAY, JUNE 5, 1897.

Brief Truths.

President McKinley continues to happy faculty of stating important truths in terse sentences, so noticeable in his brief speeches during the last campaign. While in Philadelphia this week he addressed a gathering of business men at a banquet and aroused the greatest enthusiasm. We quote a few crisp sentences as follows:

"I must tell you that from first to last, I have been deeply impressed with the scenes witnessed in Philadelphia to-day; witnessing the remarkable spectacle of the representatives of all the American Republics, with the products of their skill and their soil in one common warehouse for comparison and observation, thanks to Dr. Pepper and the Philadelphia Museums. (Great applause.)

"The first great convention of these Republics was organized by the matchless diplomacy of that specialist American, James G. Blaine. (Cheers and tremendous applause.)

"Seven years ago he brought the Governments of this continent together and taught the doctrine that the genuine reciprocity in trade required reciprocity of information. (Great applause.)

"But let me tell you, my countrymen, that resuscitation will not be promoted by recrimination. (Applause).

"The distrust of the present will not be relieved by a distrust of the future. (Applause).

"A patriot makes a better citizen than a pessimist. (Great applause). And we have got to be patient. (Applause).

"Much as we want to move out of the old house, we cannot do it until the new one is finished. (Cheers and applause).

"A tariff law half made is of no practical use except to indicate that in a little while a whole tariff law will be done (applause), and it is making progress. (Great applause.)

"It is reaching the end, and when the end comes we will have business confidence and industrial activity. (Renewed cheers and applause). Let us keep steady heads and steady hearts. (Applause.)

"The country is not going backward, but forward. (Applause.)

"American energy has not been destroyed by the storms of the past. (Applause.)

"It will yet triumph through wise and beneficent legislation. (Great cheering.)

"We are now getting ready to move out of the old house. The work is well under way on the new house, but is not yet ready for use. Unfortunately the architects now employed are not as rapid in their movements as those who commenced the work, although the progress from day to day is greater than the people anticipated. In the meantime the pessimists and demagogues will not shake the faith of the people in the soundness of the principles of protection."

Effectively Answered.

Replying to the senseless chatter of Simpson and Lewis and other self-constituted leaders of the Democratic minority in the House, to the effect that legislation is being neglected, Congressman Grosvenor, of Ohio, said:

"We have done exactly what we came here to do. We did not come (addressing the Democratic side of the House) by your suggestion. We are not going by your suggestion, and we will not shape our action while here as your suggestion. (Applause on the Republican side.) You want to legislate! Why, if any of these bills you are talking about should come up, four out of five of you would vote against any one of them.

"The gentleman from Kansas eloquently pleads for the soldier. We are paying out to-day at the ratio of $150,000,000 per annum to the soldiers of the United States of America, and I have not heard a great many of them making complaint that the amount was not great enough. We have about $400,000,000 of revenue of every description coming into the treasury, and we are paying out three-eighths of it to support the soldiers of the country. And you on the other side do not like it!

"But if there was a bill here to add $10 to $1 nine out of ten of you would vote against that bill. (Applause on the Republican side.) So the proposition is a very easy one, and the wild and senseless land bubble talk that has been going out of the country should be rebuked.

"Gentlemen, this tariff legislation is moving at a ratio equal to the most rapid movement of legislation of this magnitude. It passed this House with a rapidity that surprised the country. But will pass the Senate. (Derisive laughter on the Democratic side.) Yes; and in that connection I may say to day the people of the country stand in an overwhelming majority in favor of the House bill. (Applause on the Republican side.) And I can tell you something more than that, gentlemen. When the Senate bill comes back here and the action of the joint conference shall be had, the people of the country will be satisfied with the result. The Republicans will have executed their duty. They will have responded to the call of the President, and you may call on the rocks and mountains to hide you from the wrath of the people in the future. (Applause on the Republican side.)

Contradictory Charges.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: It is amusing to place together the two leading charges made against the Republican party by the Democratic press. The first is that the business depression of the last four years was caused by latent conditions prepared by the Republicans and handed over in 1893. The second is that a full tide of national prosperity has not appeared during the second month of the new Republican Administration. These accusations are contradictory and damaging excuses. They not only conflict but involve a compliment not intended. As for the subtlety of the Republicans in preparing a disguised packe and unloading it upon the Democrats, that is a fantastic idea. Up to the last month of the Harrison Administration the Treasury reported a surplus. Then the Democrats took hold, having been intrusted with full control of the Government for the first time in more than thirty years. It was their business to avert dull times and strengthen the national revenue, and they should have thanked fortune that the difficulties were only "latent," not yet visible or urgent.

But a few months of untrammelled Democratic rule elapsed until the people discovered that the country had fallen into incapable hands. Everything went wrong. The national revenue fell off and a heavy deficit appeared to take the place of the long-established surplus. An insufficient and politically shapeless tariff bill was passed. It had the double fault of violating the pledge of the party platform and of failing to meet current expenses. The industries of the country languished, business confidence was lost and new ventures were indefinitely postponed. From this state of demoralization and distress sprang a revolutionary Democratic fusion and attack upon the standard of values, threatening to reduce it one-half. Here was Pandora's box with a vengeance, and yet the Democratic explanation is that the Republicans had laid a trap years before. Why the Democrats failed to avoid all traps is not cleared up. It is imperative that a party in full control should at least have that much gumption.

On the 4th of March, a little more than two months ago, the Republican party took charge in Washington of a large assortment of Democratic debts, deficits, complications and tariff absurdities, and, at the same moment, the Democrats demanded immediate good times. Mr. Bryan is reported to have recently asked a crowd, "Have you seen the General?" In reply to the query, "What General?" his reply was, "Why, General Prosperity." In less than ninety days, the Republicans are expected to restore the country to buoyant conditions. They have never failed heretofore to do it in due time. Whatever of statesmanship and courage was necessary they have supplied. They are now engaged in framing the sort of tariff it was pledged to, which is precisely where the Democrats showed one of their vulgarities of bad faith. The indictment from the Democrats is not in the form of latent evils. They are numerous, positive and pressing. But the Republican party expects to make short work of them on this as on former occasions.

Notice of Foreclosure.

Whereas Geo. D. B. Burgess, of Balsam, in the County of Penobscot and State of Maine, by his mortgage deed dated Feb. 1st, 1890, and recorded in Penobscot Registry for Deeds, Vol. 561, Page 296, conveyed to Lewis Parker, late of Bangor, deceased, a certain piece of real estate situated in Bangor, in said County of Penobscot, and bounded and described in said mortgage as follows: "The Southerly tenement of the double tenement house and lot on the easterly side of Essex Street, Bangor, formerly the property of my late mother, Rachel Sargent, and owned by her at the time of her death, of which I am the only heir, and as such am now the sole owner thereof. For description more full see mortgage from Lewis Parker to J. W. Hallaway, recorded in Penobscot Registry, Vol. 531, Page 469, and the various assignments and foreclosures thereof and deeds referred to in same;"

And whereas Franklin A. Wilson, surviving Executor of the last will and testament of the said Lewis Barker, deceased, by his assignment dated Jan. 6th, 1892, and recorded in said Registry, Vol. 620, Page 7, assigned said mortgage to Lewis Barker and Alice E. Barker, and whereas the condition of said mortgage has been and remains broken, the undersigned, Lewis Barker and Alice E. Barker, minors, under the age of twenty-one years, by their lawful guardian, Thomas H. Wentworth, by reason of the breach of the condition thereof, claim a foreclosure of said mortgage and give this notice for that purpose.

The Century
IN 1897.
ALL NEW FEATURES.

The Century will continue to be in every respect the leading American magazine, its table of contents including each month the best in literature and art. The present interest in American history makes especially timely a Great Novel of the American Revolution, the leading serial feature for 1897, and the masterpiece of its author, Dr. S. Weir Mitchell. The story, "Hugh Wynne, Free Quaker," purports to be the autobiography of its hero, an officer on Washington's staff. Social life in Philadelphia at the time of the Revolution is most interesting ly depicted, and the characters include Washington, Franklin, Lafayette, and others well known in history. It is safe to say that the readers of this great romance will obtain from its clear idea of the people who were foremost in Revolutionary days, and of the social life of the time, than can be had from any other single source. The work is not only historically accurate, but is a most interesting story of love and war. The first chapters are in November number. Howard Pyle will illustrate it.

Campaigning With Grant, by General Horace Porter, is the title of a series of articles which has been in preparation for many years. General Porter was an aide on General Grant's staff and a close friend of his chief, and the diary which he kept through the war is the basis of the present articles, which are striking pen-pictures of campaign life and scenes. They will be fully illustrated. The first one is in the November Century.

A new novel by Marion Crawford, author of "Mr. Isaacs," "Dr. Claudius," "To Leeward," etc., entitled "A Rose of Yesterday," a story of modern life in Europe, with American characters, begins in November. The first of a series of engravings, made by the famous Wood-engraver, T. Cole, of the old English masters also is in this issue. New features will be announced from time to time.

Harper's Magazine
IN 1897.

Fiction: The Martian, the new novel by Du Maurier, the expected successor to "Trilby," begins in October Number, 1896, with illustrations from the author's drawings. A new novel by Frank R. Stockton—developing a twentieth Century Renaissance—full of humorous situations and characterization. Illustrated. A Pair of Patient Lovers, by William Dean Howells. Other striking novelettes by American authors. Short stories by Mark Twain, Thomas Nelson Page, Richard Harding Davis, Owen Wister, John Kendrick Bangs, Ruth McEnery Stuart, Octave Thanet, Mary E. Wilkins, and other popular writers.

Science: Story of the Progress of Science during the Nineteenth Century, a series of papers by Dr. Henry Smith Williams, amplificated by contributions on special subjects by expert scientists. Articles on the relations of curious psychological manifestations to physiology, by Dr. Andrew Wilson.

American Features: The Mexico of To-Day, a series by Charles F. Lummis, splendidly illustrated—the result of a recent visit to Mexico undertaken for Harper's Magazine. Mexico is pre-eminently a silver-producing country, and its monetary operations rest entirely on a silver basis. Owing to the keen discussion of certain economic problems in connection with issues of urgent importance in American politics, these papers will command general attention. American Historical Papers by Woodrow Wilson, John Bach McMaster, and James Barnes. The true story of Sheridan's Ride, by Gen. G. A. Forsyth. Continuation of Howells' Personal Recollections of eminent Harper's contributors.

Africa and the East: White Man's Africa, a fully illustrated series of papers by Poultney Bigelow, the result of personal observation during a recent trip to Africa, covering the whole field of European exploitation of that country. Illustrated articles by Stephen Bonsal on the transformations going on in Eastern Siberia, recently visited by the author. Hungarian Sketches, written and drawn by E. Hopkinson Smith. The full story of the recent Coronation of the Czar, by Richard Harding Davis, illustrated by R. Caton Woodville, who was commissioned by Queen Victoria to paint a picture of the ceremony.

JAIL BROKEN INTO.

A Colored Brute Lynched by a Mob in Ohio.

His Body Left Hanging and Viewed by All Classes.

Columbus, O., June 4.—A special to the dispatch from Urbana, Ohio, says: "Chick" Mitchell, the negro brute, has paid the penalty of his foul crime with his life. An outraged people have taken the law into their own hands and dealt out to Mitchell the punishment he so fiendishly deserved, and have observed the command and wish of his prostrated and as he announced, dying victim. The sensational and unfortunate events of the night intensified the feeling against Mitchell. It was that was possible, and the determination became general that the brute should never have the town alive. After the firing of the militia on the crowd of upwards of, during the early morning hours, two Bushnell crowded company B, 42nd Infantry, of Springfield, to come here at once. The Springfield militia arrived here at 7:10 this morning and left their special train on the outskirts of the city, or near the waterworks. The company, 30 strong, under Capt. Brad ley, marched uptown to the jail when they found 2,000 people surrounding it.

The company marched into the jail yard and were met by Hon. M. Lewis, who said to Capt. Bradbury:

"We don't want you now."

"Who are you?"

"I am the Deputy sheriff" replied Lewis.

"There is the sheriff over there," pointing to Mayor Gutson, who at that particular moment came forward from the crowd to the court house steps and proceeded to address the militia and the crowd. The mayor assured the militia their valuable services were not wanted, that the people were law-abiding and would assist him in preserving order, that the company could leave the courthouse yard as soon when their services were needed he would send for them.

The Springfield company, without waiting for further orders, marched down the street to the depot without the sheriff having seen them. The local military company had previously refused to serve longer and went to the second story of the sheriff's residence and tried to sleep. With no resistance offered, the crowd at once made a rush for the side door. Two strong and determined men kicked it down in short order and gained admission to the jail, the crowd following.

There was plenty of sledge hammers, crowbars and other tools in the crowd and the men went to work.

Part of the crowd had previously forced themselves up stairs into the private apartments of the sheriff and after looking about found a bunch of jail keys, which had been hid far away. They soon got into the jail easily. They did not wait to unlock the door to Mitchell's cell, but burst the lock with a sledge hammer and the door soon flew open. Mitchell was standing in his cell and offered no resistance and did not utter a word. Some one in the crowd had a rope and it was placed over the brute's neck and the crowd made for the door, Mitchell following at the end of the rope.

In going down the steps on the outside of the jail Mitchell fell down and the rope slipped off his neck. The crowd surrounded him, jumped on him like a thousand hungry dogs. Mitchell was kicked, beaten and almost killed, then and there. The rope was quickly slipped over his head and a rush was made for a tree in the southeastern corner of the court house yard in front of the court house.

The end was thrown over a strong limb and a thousand willing hands pulled the wretch up. The end of the rope was tied to the iron fence and Mitchell was left hanging there to die in full view of several thousand people.

All this was done in an incredibly short space of time. The lynching took place at about 7:30 o'clock this morning. Little men taking part in it made no attempt to disguise themselves, but it is not known who did the work and the person who attempts to find out will get himself into serious trouble. They did their work well and that is all the people wish to know.

It is doubted if Mitchell died from the effects of the hanging. His shoulders were almost kicked out of him when he fell down. He is the general opinion that he was unconscious when strung up. The body was left hanging for an hour or more and the people of the city flocked to see it. All classes of people came to witness the spectacle. The body was finally cut down and placed in an undertaker's box and left lying in the court house yard exposed to public view.

Another One Hanged in Virginia.

Fairfax, Va., June 4.—James Lewis, colored, who was recently convicted of criminal assault on Mrs. Reidel, of this place, was hanged here 5:03 this morning in the jail yard in the presence of about 50 people. Lewis was quite cool and walked to the gallows without assistance. There was no demonstration of violence upon the part of the crowd.

The crime for which Lewis suffered the extreme penalty of the law was that of ravishing Mrs. Ida Reidel, a white woman, who lived a little far from some miles below Alexandria, Va. The crime was a brutal one and stirred the indignation of the people of the surrounding country almost to the lynching point. Lewis was soon captured but stoutly maintained his innocence.

A remarkable feature of the case was that he had three alibis in his injury days the first in the first two cases being unable to assist, and in the last trial, declaring him guilty and imposing the death penalty. The prisoner was then remanded to jail to await execution.

He continued to assert his innocence until yesterday when he admitted that he committed the assault and said he hoped to be forgiven. Lewis also confessed that he had at various times committed assaults upon three other women, for one of which he served a term in jail.

Durrant Made Merry.

San Francisco, June 4.—Theo. Durrant will not be hanged on next Friday. His attorneys have gained for him a new lease of life for four months at least and he condemned man made merry in his cell last night when he heard the cheerful news. He had become resigned to his fate when information was received at the prison that Judge Gilbert of the United States circuit court, had granted his attorneys permission to appeal to the supreme court of the United States from his order made on Wednesday denying the application for a writ of habeas corpus.

The appeal will be perfected today when Theodore Durrant's father will file a bond of $500 to cover the costs of the appeal. Even if the appeal should be dismissed early in the term, the 30 days allowed by the state law between the time in which the execution is fixed, and the day of execution would carry the matter pretty well forward to August the 1st.

No formal stay order could, however, be secured from Attorney General Fitzgerald but yet Sheriff Wardell had not to proceed with the execution on June 11, but he has given such advice to Warden Aldecoa of Folsom in the murder case and the Durrant case is at present precisely the same footing.

Tank Bulged Out.

New York, June 4.—A gang of men was hard engaged this morning removing the debris of the collapsed sugar factory at 12th avenue and 52nd street and searching for the body of Jacob Jacobson, the millwright, the only man missing. His widow was at the ruins this morning, accompanied by her 14 years old son.

An investigation made already by persons interested indicates that those connected with the construction of the building are blameless. The collapse so far as can be ascertained was due to the bulging of one of the iron tanks which was filled with water yesterday morning. It bulged out to such an extent as to force the wall.

There was a space of two inches between the tank and the wall when it was empty and it was forced from the inside by iron bars, fastened to the square sides of the tank with bolts. The pressure of the water was so great as to force these bolts in several of the tanks.

Work Going On Slowly.

Beverly, Mass., June 4.—The work of discharging the coal from the steamer Pottsville, which pounded holes in her hull on the ledge near her wharf, yesterday, goes on slowly. During the night the water rushed into the engine room and put out the fires and this morning at high tide the water was level with her rail.

The owners of the steamer at Philadelphia have been notified and an ocean tug will probably be sent to her assistance, although it is doubtful if a tug can get into the harbor on account of the shallow water.

[illegible] Gardner (138) dogs have been licensed and there are 140 that are not licensed. This is according to the list handed in by the assessors, and the city clerk's record, but does not include the great army of canines that similarly roam the streets, claiming an ownership from no one, the homeless tramps of the canine world.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Conference With Queen Regent Regarding Spanish Crisis.

Attempt to Horsewhip Member of Parliament—Other Items.

Madrid, June 4.—The queen regent conferred yesterday evening with the president of the Senate, the Marquis Pazo de la Merrced, and the latter afterwards said he had reason to say that the continuance of Senor Canovas as chief of the cabinet, the premier, would consist in the fulfillment of the debts. The opinion is held by the president of the chamber, Senor A. Lidel, who is to have a conference with the queen regent today.

Marshal Martinez de Campos is on his way to Madrid, but it is not satisfied fresh with any party, he is not prepared in the crisis from a political standpoint and will give his attention to military affairs, especially to the Cuban question.

Senor Francisco Silvela, the leader of the Dissident Conservatives in the chamber, is among the politicians who have been summoned to the palace.

The Herald's Madrid correspondent says the proposed Paris branch of the Bank of Spain will not be established, the dailies on the subject having been premature.

Attempt to Horsewhip Mr. Labouchere.

London, June 4.—While Mr. H. Labouchere, the jubilee of Truth, member of parliament for Northampton, was on his way from his residence to the House of Commons today a man accosted him and attempted to horsewhip him with a horse whip. It was generally supposed that the assailant was Mr. Labouchere's brother-in-law, the Marquis de Bellaire, who had a few days ago charged Mr. Labouchere in the columns of Truth with the Transvaal raid, but Mr. Labouchere's friends have since stated that the assailant is the Rev. Vincent Brooks, who recently made the acquaintance of Mr. Labouchere's friends, who were amused in the columns of Truth.

Brooks, who was formerly a Methodist preacher, is said to have obtained a loan of $10,000 with his signature of Mr. Labouchere's name, by sending bogus letters to the banks of the city of London, and by forging Mr. Labouchere's name to the letters. Brooks, who has been in the "Bounds" Brooks from notice, but he succeeded in obtaining an order of release from the royal bench, and was, yesterday, by ordinance, a free man. Brooks, who is said to be a nervous man, claimed that he was insane when he committed the forgeries, and his counsel intended to plead insanity in his defense. London, June 4.—A special dispatch from Paris says rumors are current that the French capitol of a serious discussion in the Meline cabinet and that a reconstruction is probable.

Kelley Visited by His Sister.

Dover, N. H., June 4.—Joseph E. Kelley, the murderer of Chester Stickney of the Great Falls National Bank of Somersworth, receives no occasional visits at his cell in the Strafford county jail. He has little to say to any body and is little so spy to anybody and his evidently made up his mind that he will never free again.

Miss Annie Kelley, sister of the prisoner, visited him yesterday. Miss Kelley remained in the jail with her brother about one hour. This was the first meeting of brother and sister since the crime was committed. The meeting was a most affecting one. Miss Kelley cried bitterly throughout the visit.

Fined for Contempt of Court.

Worcester, Mass., June 4.—Editor Austin F. Cristy, of the Worcester Telegram, and E. C. Finley, a reporter, who were summoned for the superior civil court, for in contempt were today fined $50 each. Judge Dewey gave a hearing on the case yesterday afternoon reserving his decision. The contempt consisted in the republication of a statement which the court held was calculated to prejudice the jury, concerning the trial of two land damage cases against the city of Worcester. The defense argued that the second publication, after the court had warned the jury to pay no attention to the first, was printed as an explanation and that no contempt was intended.

Gold for Europe.

New York, June 4.—Hallgarten & Co. and Lehman Bros. & Co. will ship $500,000 in gold to Europe by tomorrow's steamer.

"It kills all cuts, burns and bruises like magic." That's Johnson's Anodyne Liniment surely.

RHEUMATISM CURED IN A DAY.
"MYSTIC CURE" for RHEUMATISM and NEURALGIA radically cures in 1 to 3 days. Its action upon the system is remarkable and mysterious. It removes at once the cause and the disease immediately disappears. The first dose greatly benefits. 75 cents. Sold by J. L. Mountaine & Co., Caldwell Sweet, Druggists, Bangor. 3

After serious illness Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful, building up power. It purifies the blood and restores perfect health.

The man who has been struck by a locomotive and is picked up alive and carried on by the cow-catcher has had a miraculous escape. The man who through neglect has scattered his health and wrecked his body, and through the aid of a medicine is picked up alive and restored to health has had an almost equally wonderful experience. There are thousands of men who have for years overworked themselves to the neglect of their health, and then when utterly wrecked physically and shattered in nerve have picked up and restored to health by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

It is a marvelous remedy that corrects all disorders of the digestion, invigorates the liver, and fills the blood with the life-giving elements that build new flesh and force. It is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It cures 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption and is a specific for diseases of the digestion, or imperfect nutrition. Druggists sell it.

Clayton, Ky., writes Mr. H. G. Adams, "Enclosed find Henry Co., Ky., have taken two bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery and one bottle of your Prescription. The medicines are doing us good. We can't say too much for them for our family. My wife persuaded me to quit using tobacco and smoking, and I now feel like a new man. I shall always speak a good word for your medicines when I can, and I shall recommend them highly to many of my friends. I told them that if it did not do them as much as it did me it would pay them to write to you."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the surest and quickest cure for constipation, piles, sick headache, and all liver ills. One little Pellet is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Sugar-coated, they are scarcely more than candy. They cause no griping, nor disturb the most delicate system.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Of the Late Hon. Joseph R. Farrington.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Hon. Joseph R. Farrington, superintendent of the State Reform School, were held at the Reform School Thursday afternoon and were largely attended by friends from Portland and vicinity in addition to the boys in the school. Rev. Dwight L. Prattle officiated, assisted by Rev. Ephraim Cummings, and music was furnished by the Williston choir, of Portland.

The remains arrived in Brewer Friday and in the afternoon services were held at the First Congregational church which were largely attended. The floral offerings were very beautiful. Rev. B. B. Merrill officiated, and the singing was by the Brewer quartette, W. J. Bunker singing in place of Chas. O. Farrington. The bearers were Messrs. Manley Hardy, Alpheus Robinson, Daniel Tibbetts and J. D. Holmes. Deacon George A. Snow had charge of the arrangements. The interment was made at Oak Hill cemetery.

Among those present from away were Dr. Arthur M. Farrington, of Washington, D. C.; Prof. Edward H. Farrington, of Madison, Wis.; Prof. Oliver C. Farrington, of Chicago; Prof. Horace P. Farrington, of St. Paul, Minn., and Miss Charlotte Long, matron of the Reform School at Cape Elizabeth.

A PAPER IN A BOTTLE.

Flask Which Tells Story of Alleged Suicide.

A half-pint bottle, empty except for a piece of paper, and a noticeable odor of whiskey, was found floating in the river near the Biddeford side at the Ferry Wednesday afternoon, and the bottle and paper are now in the possession of the police.

The paper in the bottle proved to be a note which when unfolded read as follows:

"I am gone four over tell my wife I am drown rite here in the narrow. my name P. A. Nuton from Portland."

Three fishermen from Biddeford, Joseph and Edmund Fourchier and Frank Martel, otherwise known as "Charley Brass," picked up the bottle, intending to sell it to a junk dealer. It was tightly corked, and when they saw the note in it they decided, although none of them could read it, to give it to the police. They had heard stories about mysteries that had been unravelled by such floating messages as this, and the police seemed to be the proper parties to refer the bottle to. They gave it to Officer Dechamie, who now has it.

The paper is a leaf torn from a small blank book, lined up and down in tiny squares. Everything about the note is legible enough except the signature which is decidedly obscure, but looks as much like "P. A. Nutter" as it does like anything. Of course the purport of it is that the writer was about to drown himself in the Narrows, but Officer Dechamie does not take much stock in regarding it as very probably the flight of some half-drunken voyager on the river to start a hoax and mystify the persons into whose hands the bottle might chance to fall.

Cantons to the Front.

The committee of arrangements for the Patriarchs Militant field day, to be held at Skowhegan Thursday, the 10th instant, have received assurances from the several Cantons that indicate that fully 1,000 chevaliers will be present on that day, and arrangements are being completed with this attendance in view. Those who have promised saddle horses and saddles for the parade have been notified to have them at L. W. Chase's stable promptly at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, the 10th instant, and any who have saddle horses or saddles that they can provide for the occasion are requested to communicate with Thos. Parrish.

The young ladies who are to wait on the tables at the Coburn Hall banquet are to meet at Odd Fellows Hall Saturday afternoon, the 5th instant, at 2 o'clock.

Messrs. C. A. Marston, Thos. Parrish, W. P. Ordway, A. H. Noyes and E. G. Woodbury constitute the executive committee and their headquarters will be at Odd Fellows Hall.

The local managers hope that, so far as practicable, the 10th instant may be observed as a holiday by the manufacturers and merchants of the town so that all may have opportunity to witness and enjoy the parade and drill of these finely uniformed and disciplined organizations.

The Board of Fence Viewers has ordered a North Bath farmer to build a fence which will keep a neighbor's pigs from rooting on his land. The farmer who owns the pigs had to pay several dollars recently to get his porkers out of the pound for trespassing on his neighbor's farm, which would have been prevented if the neighbor had maintained the fence which by the verdict of the fence viewers he was obliged to do.

THE INDIAN OUTBREAK.

Strong Demand for Removal of Agent Stetson.

Settlers Building Stone Fort to Protect Wives and Children.

Denver, Col., June 4.—A special to the News from Miles City, Mont., says: Capt. Reed, commanding the Fort Custer Soldiers at the reservation, has sent a lengthy document for publication, telling the Sioux Indians that they are free to return to their homes, that they are to proceed both the Indians and white people. This statement is claimed by the chiefs to be absurd, for it is a fact that 200 Indians are off the reservation and not under surveillance.

The settlers on Otter Creek, east of Tongue river, are gathering at the Circle Bar ranch, and are building a stone fort in which to protect their wives and children from the Indians.

It is learned that the Sioux decline to come and aid the Cheyennes.

It is claimed that the Indians are supplied with government arms and ammunition and that the Indian agent and his subordinates are endeavoring to keep the sheriff and his posses from going up on the reservation which is necessary in order to see the evidence to convict the murderers when brought to trial. They are causing a strong demand for the removal of the Indian Agent Stetson by the authorities at Washington. The Indians implicated in the murder of young Hoover are Phillip Badger, now under arrest, Small Crow, Standing Elk and a half brother of Chief Red Bird. The latter three are still at large. Standing Elk is a graduate of Carlisle university.

Badger, since his arrest, has confessed to the interpreter at the reservation. When asked why he committed the crime Badger said he did it just for fun.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.

Wax Firing at a Target and Fatally Wounded a Man.

White River Junction, Vt., June 4.—H. M. Duffy, of Montpelier, an insurance agent and a professional trapper, was shot while passing through this place last night as a passenger on the Passumpsic way freight train and it is feared he will die from his injuries. Dr. S. J. Allen is under arrest as the one who did the shooting.

The bullet passed through the car window and curtain, and entering Duffy's right cheek, shattered the upper jaw, split the tongue and upper lip and lodged in the neck of conductor Seely, who was passing.

There are many conflicting stories about concerning the affair. Dr. Allen claims that the shooting was purely accidental and that he was shooting at a chipmunk at the time, and a bullet missed the mark and passed through the car window. The train hands, however, claim that the bullet which went wide of the target did no particular damage.

Its attracted their attention, however, and while the train was stopped out far from Dr. Allen's house, they proceeded to the spot, and finding in that direction, whereupon the doctor denied having fired his gun and said the shot which killed Duffy's wounded. The injured man was in critical condition this afternoon and the physicians still state that there is little chance for his recovery.

Dr. Allen will be held to await the result of Duffy's injuries.

The local officers began an investigation by taking statements attending the shooting early this morning and at noon claim it was learned that they had discovered evidence which was thought to bear out the claim of the trainmen. An examination of the car showed that the bullet hole in the curtain was on a level with that in the window in the drill frame and had been taken. The curtain was pulled down before Duffy took the seat and it remained in the same position today.

It is stated, however, in view of the conflicting stories that the curtain being pulled down no one could see seats in the car and that at the time he was shot, Duffy was speaking to the conductor.

Dr. Allen has lived here many years. About 10 years ago he attained considerable prominence through having been called up in a barroom fight in Boston, in which a man was shot.

Will Meet Next Year in Denver.

Philadelphia, June 4.—At this morning's session of the American Medical Association, Denver, Col., was selected as the next place of meeting and Dr. Geo. M. Sternberg, of Washington, was chosen president of the association. The other officers elected are as follows: Dr. J. M. Matthews, Kentucky, first vice president; Dr. W. H. Thompson, Cincinnati, second vice president; Dr. F. H. Wiggin, New York, third vice president; Dr. I. J. Hoppel, Tennessee, fourth vice president; Dr. Henry P. Newman, Illinois, treasurer; Dr. Wm. B. Atkinson, Philadelphia, secretary; Dr. W. A. Hayne, Colorado, assistant secretary; Dr. Geo. W. Webster, Illinois, librarian; Dr. J. W. Graham, Denver, chairman of the committee on arrangements.

To See the Country.

Washington, June 4.—A special train left here at 9 o'clock this morning over the Pennsylvania railroad, carrying the Universal Postal Congress on its trip throughout the country. About 1-0 persons were aboard, comprising most of the delegates from the foreign countries, the United States delegates and postal officials, including Assistant Postmaster Generals Heath and Shallenberger, postmaster Wanamaker, the ladies of the party. The trip will occupy about five days and will embrace many of the leading cities, the stops, however, usually being only for a few hours. Boston will be visited on Thursday next.

Yale Men Hard at Work.

Gales Ferry, Ct., June 4.—The Thames river was like a mill pond this morning and the Yale university crew from Saybrook settled down to hard work. Capt. Baller and his men were eager to get on to the river because of their enforced idleness yesterday. Coach Bob Cook got a shell ready and it was launched at about 9.30; half an hour later the oarsmen were out on the river and Mr. Cook was coaching them from the bow of the Yale launch. Almost no breeze was blowing and as do from a sultry atmosphere the conditions for practice were absolutely perfect.

For over an hour the men practiced starts and sprints and received words of wisdom from Bob Cook, delivered through the megaphone. At 11.0 the crew was still on the water.

The natives at Gales Ferry and across the river at Montville have thus early taken up upon themselves to pronounce the crew a beautiful one and the eight certainly made a fine showing on the water today. However, Mr. Cook is not slow in picking flaws and two weeks of the hardest kind of work are forthcoming for the rivals of Harvard and Cornell.

Receivership Discharged.

Boston, June 4.—In the Suffolk supreme court today Judge Holmes ordered that, upon the depositors of the Union Loan & Trust Co. being paid in full, the temporary receivership of the company be discharged and that its remaining property and a third be turned over to its stockholders. This order does not, however, give the company the right to resume business.

The capital stock of the company is $100,000 and its president was W. A. Clark, Jr. It was placed in the hands of Congressman McCall as receiver, on Oct. 9 last.

The amount of its deposits is $63,000, but William B. Butterfield, a Lynn banker, with some friends, has a deposit of $27,000 with the company and, who is a stockholder of it, has stipulated that he will wait until the other depositors are paid in full, provided the temporary receivership was discharged, and the affairs turned over to the stockholders for final adjustment as to the remaining assets and debts.

The Tailors' Strike.

New York, June 4.—This is the 10th day of the tailors' strike. An appeal has been issued to 5,000 men now at work to assess themselves 15 per cent. of their weekly earnings to help sustain the 12,000 men now on strike.

The members of the firm of Greenberg & Hyman, clothing contractors, at No. 174 Allen street, are disturbed over the refusal of the settlement committee to issue the required form showing that the firm has acquiesced to the demands of the strikers, without a $100 cash deposit. The firm employs 150 hands, and are willing to give them an all around increase of 25 per cent. to the wage scale. No such demand has been made on any one member of the 238 concerns who have yielded to the demands of the strikers.

Settlement of no settlement the men will report to work Tuesday morning and have the balance to settle their connection with the United Brotherhood of Tailors and disown the leadership unless the firm is relieved from the onerous bond.

Telegraphic Notes.

Sir Oliver Mowatt's bill to prohibit the exhibition in Canada of the kinetoscope pictures of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons prize fight is practically killed.

A despatch to the London Daily Mail from Cairo says that a smart skirmish has taken place between the Anglo-Egyptian column and the dervishes at Murwab, near the fourth cataract, the most advanced post occupied by the Dongola expedition on the Nile.

A Mystery Cleared.

Early Tuesday morning an George Thomas, an Old Orchard expressman, and William Benson, a machinist in the Saco water power machine shop, were driving to Saco they noticed a hat in the woods beside the highway on the Old Orchard road, some three miles from Saco.

They made an investigation and found a black felt hat, bespattered with mud. Under the hat was a handsome revolver, with the barrel stuck in the ground. The weapon was a five-shooter, of 32 calibre, and was nearly new. Every chamber had been discharged.

On a knoll several feet from where the hat and pistol were found the turf and pine spills were kicked about, evidence that a struggle had occurred there.

The young men searched the thick woods there but nothing more was found. They took possession of the hat and revolver and when Mr. Thomas returned to Old Orchard he took them to the beach with him.

Just beyond the woods lived Geo. Patterson and when he was told of the mysterious find he said that whilst he had heard several carriages, or as he said, "teams," pass the house in the evening, he had heard no outcry or any noise that would give any clew as to how or why the things came to be left in the woods.

Wednesday morning Deputy Sheriff Miles went to Old Orchard and after some trouble solved the mystery of the hat and revolver.

He discovered that they belong to Charles Waltefield who is working at the Richardson farm, better known as the old Prentiss farm at Old Orchard. Monday he celebrated by coming to town, and when he went back toward home that night, was so overcome by the size of the load he carried that he lay down under a tree by the roadside. It is supposed that he carefully placed his hat and revolver in front of him for safe keeping. After that he went to the farm and slept in an old shed. He didn't wake up Tuesday, but Wednesday morning when the people at the farm had begun to wonder at his absence and had about decided to begin a search of the swamp in that vicinity, he put in an appearance. He recognized the hat and revolver as his, but told the officer that he was unable to account for their presence by the roadside.

Freight Thieves Caught.

Wednesday night City Marshal Barnes of Saco, and his officers took four Portland fellows off the night freight at the Saco station and locked them up, at the complaint of the conductor. He discovered them just as soon as the train left Portland and shut them into the car they had broken open, caging them tightly till they got to Saco. There he stopped and turned them over to the officers.

The quartet were armed with stones and sticks but had no chance to use them and the formidable array of blue coats took the fight out of them at once.

They are young men and dressed quite well, being of respectable appearance, but the conductor thinks that they are the crowd that has repeatedly ransacked cars at the Commercial street line and broken open the doors and stolen the contents. This time they were a trifle slow in getting away and the door closed on them and they took an involuntary ride, landing in jail.

They gave the names of Joseph Flynn, William Sawyer, John J. Anderson and Michael Hanley, all of Portland. Whether these are their names or not is a question. They are quite intelligent appearing and might take chances before betraying their real identity.

Thursday afternoon the four were arraigned for vagrancy, the only offense that they committed in York county. They pleaded not guilty and then the train hands testified to the way the fellows got into the car and rode out there. The court ordered their committed to the Portland jail for thirty days each, and then it is presumed the railroad or the state officers will take them in there for breaking and entering. It was careful work on the part of the train hands that caged the four and held them till the officers took them in tow. They hope they are rid of one thieving gang in this section. The car they were in was filled with shoes.

NEGLECT IS SUICIDE.

Plain Words From Mrs. Pinkham, Corroborated by Mrs. Charles Dunmore, That Ought to Bring Suffering Women to Their Senses.

If you were drowning and friendly hands shoved a plank to you, and you refused it, you would be committing suicide!

Yet that is precisely what women are doing if they go about their homes almost dead with misery, yet refuse to grasp the kindly hand held out to them.

It is suicidal to go day after day with that dull, constant pain in the region of the womb and that bloating, hard and tender mass of the abdomen, which make the weight of your clothes an almost intolerable burden to you. It is not natural to suffer so furiously emptying the bladder. Does not the special form of suffering tell you that there is inflammation somewhere?

Shall I tell you what it is? It is inflammation of the womb!

If it goes on, polypus, or tumor, or cancer will set in. Commence the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands of women in this condition have been cured by it. Keep your bowels open with Mrs. Pinkham's Liver Pills, and if you want further advice, write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., stating freely all your symptoms—she stands ready and willing to give you the very best advice. She has given the helping hand to thousands suffering just as you are, many of whom lived miles away from physician. Her marvelous Vegetable Compound has cured many thousands of women. It can be found at any respectable drug store.

Mrs. Charles Dunmore, 103 Fremont St., Winter Hill, Somerville, Mass., says: "I was in pain day and night; my doctor did not seem to help me. I could not seem to find any relief until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had inflammation of the womb, a bearing-down pain, and the whites very badly. The pain was so intense that I could not sleep at night. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for eight months, and am now all right. Before that I took morphine pills for my pain; that was a great mistake, for the relief was only momentary and the effect vile. I am so thankful to be relieved of my sufferings, for the pains I had were something terrible. I am, indeed, very grateful for the good Mrs. Pinkham's remedies have done me."

ALL OVER THE STATE.

As the Misses Helen Malins and Lizzie Jordan, of Cash Corner, were driving to Town House Corner, Pleasantdale, where they attend the high school, Thursday morning, their horse became frightened at an electric car just before reaching the Pleasantdale bridge, overturning the carriage and throwing them violently to the ground. What might have been a fatal accident to both parties was averted only by the rare presence of mind of the driver, one of the girls, who by sheer force kept the horse from running away, never losing her hold on the reins. As it was, Miss Malins was severely hurt, having a deep gash cut in her forehead but she got on the car and was taken to her home at Cash Corner. Miss Jordan sustained no injuries with the exception of a few bruises and a severe shaking up. She went on to school. The horse was unharmed but the wheel of the carriage was broken.

It may not be generally known that there are quite a number of Revolutionary soldiers buried in this town but such is the fact, says the Fairfield correspondent of the Kennebec Journal. Many a hero is buried beneath the pines of the old cemetery at Emery hill. It is stated and is probably true that a member of Washington's staff lies there. The report that this old, boarded, ground had been neglected is untrue, for it is in excellent condition for one that is never used and so little frequented as it is. Not a headstone has fallen and not a foot of the fence is down. The grass is mown several times a year and everything is neat and clean. It will repay anyone to visit the place. There are all kinds of tablets. Here may be seen the rough stone picked up from some rocky hillside on the neighboring farms, roughly chipped into an irregular shape, the beautiful polished marble and the modern white brass. The inscriptions on these tablets are equally interesting, especially the evolution of the given names that can be noted. On the older tablets are found the long, unpronounceable names that gave our grandparents and great grandparents such curious nick names, for the names many of them possessed were not fit for common every day use and only on some solemn occasion were their owners startled by their unusual sound. Another class includes the abstract titles, such as hope, faith, etc. As the age of the inscription diminishes, the length of the names diminishes also and on the more modern tablets are found the James and Johns, the Mary, James and Margarets. The inscriptions themselves show a marked diminution in length, and in place of the long scripture verses of bygone days, are the more modern, "He rests in peace," or "Gone but not forgotten." The location of the grounds is ideal. Situated on the crest of a hill surrounded by huge pines and oaks with the broad Kennebec winding at its foot and miles on miles of the beautiful rural scenery of the Kennebec valley spread out on every hand, who would not be content to be placed in such a spot for his final sleep?

A Harpswell man who sought to give his calf an airing tied a rope about the animal's neck, slip-knot fashion, and led him forth. The calf had not long been left to himself before the airing was turned to lack of air and the animal died.

He was an absent minded Gardiner young man, and the proprietor being away, when five o'clock came he closed the store for the night, supposing it was the regular closing time, six o'clock, and wended his way homeward. He realized the situation, however, when his wife asked him why he was home so early; she hadn't commenced to get supper. Then he went back and opened up again and staid until six.

Employment Agent Dunlap, of Gardiner, received a telephone message Thursday from Vermont, away up near the New York line and costing the sender $1.75, to procure and send a house girl at once. The fame of Gardiner business folks extends far beyond the limits of their own city and State. But perhaps that man thinks that Gardiner abounds in good house girls. Perhaps he had better come around some day and try to procure a good one.

Two young people of Augusta, one a popular young lady of that city and the other a popular young man, found themselves in a pretty fix, on one of the recent, early, Pullman trains. It was they all say who know, largely a matter of coincidence that the young lady in question had arranged to go to Bangor on the same train that the young man was to go to Waterville. Being on friendly terms there was no reason why they shouldn't go together and every reason why they should, and so somewhere about 1 o'clock a. m. he called at the house of his fair friend. There were assembled a lot of girls, who had been staying up with the one of that number who was to depart from them. The young man says he was at a loss at the time to understand the purport of the giggling which burst forth in waves over the evidently excited crowd, but time was destined to explain it all. Goodbyes were spoken and the two young people left for the train, pardon us, if we call them the young couple, for so they became in the eyes of their fellow passengers on the east bound Pullman. The giggling girls, he is known, reached the station by another route and there assembled to the number of six, each with her precious hams and pickets full of rice. They pelted the "couple" as they stepped aboard and they pelted them in the train, to the entertainment of the passengers, who regarded them with the characteristic half-prying, half-envious gaze. But, when later, he got off at Waterville and she hopped on to Bangor the passengers wondered many things one to the other.

Jimmy Paris, one of the well known newsboys for the Maine Central railroad, says he does a big business this dark and generally rainy weather. The passengers, he says, read more. They require something to take their minds away from the surroundings—at any rate they find the surroundings unattractive, and are, so to speak, driven to reading. Jimmy is the first one to find bad weather helpful to business. He says he would give up a week's trade for some sunshine.

Wednesday evening a woman named Kate Mitchell was arrested by Constable Joseph Craig, of South Portland. She was on a fishing boat at Pleasantdale when arrested. She was wanted for the larceny of $30 belonging to Robert Putnam from the house of Mrs. Merrill in Deering. The Mitchell woman was given a night's lodging at Mrs. Starbird's a week ago Tuesday and she remained two days. When she finally departed Mr. Putnam discovered that his pocket book, which he kept under his pillow had also departed. The woman was, of course, suspected and a warrant issued for her arrest, by Judge Hopkins, of Deering. Wednesday evening Constable Craig was informed that she was on board a fisherman's boat and acting on this information he made the arrest and brought the woman to the police station in Portland. None of the money was found in her possession, but it is alleged that the fisherman on whose boat she was found has been unusually flush during the past week.

YOUNG HORSE THIEVES.

They Hitch Themselves to a Stylish Turnout and Entertain Friends.

Wednesday afternoon Harold E. Babb aged 10 years, Joseph and Herbert Terrell, aged 9 and 10 years respectively, had a jolly ride about Bath with A. D. Stetson's family horse and carriage. The fun lasted several hours. During that time they entertained their friends who were hot in the habit of having the fun of a ride in such style. The fun ceased when ex-Officer Elder captured the team and the three boys named as they were driving along Middle street. The team was returned to its owner, who was happy to find that no serious damage was done, although the horse was pretty well winded from the effects of the drive.

Babb, who was leader of the party, accompanied by the Terrell boys went to Stetson's stable on Washington street about three o'clock and harnessed the horse into the best buggy. Mrs. Stetson happened to see the boys in the stable and inquired what they were doing. Babb told her that Mr. Stetson sent them after the team. Mrs. Stetson knew nothing about their visit until late in the afternoon when he notified the police, who recovered the team and arrested the boys.

From all reports the boys covered a great deal of territory during their drive, for they were seen way out on the Brunswick road, up in North Bath and away down at the South End.

Babb said the horse could go like streaked lightning.

CITY AND VICINITY.

It is not always the man who does the largest amount of work in the cardiac factories who receives the most wages, and this fact is plain enough to two Eastport sealers. They sealed up cans to the value of about seventeen dollars and received their envelopes Saturday. After the leaks had been detected, one sealer got 65 cents and the other 90, and it is needless to say they were surprised. The men are considered good workmen of several years' experience.

Lobster, fishing in Stephen bay, says the Machias Union, lay a failure this spring. A man with 75 traps doesn't get but five or six marketable lobsters at a haul. It is going to be hard on some, but perhaps, they may do better later on. Over 81,750 has been expended on lobster boats in this place within a year. Every trap cost a dollar or more when ready to go in the water, and each man can use about 100 traps, and we have 20, or 30 men in the lobster business in our bay, so you see there is a lot of money invested, but the fishermen are not getting anything out of it.

At a stockholders' meeting of the Skowhegan Electric Light Co. the directors were instructed to purchase the L. W. Weston & Co. mill property and water power, bonded some months since, for the sum of $40,000. It was also voted to develop the power, to build a power house and to equip the same with water and steam power and machinery for carrying on the electric light business. This purchase includes all the mill property of L. W. Weston with the exception of the Shlachfield mill. Ground has already been broken, and a preliminary survey is being made by Engineer Crawford, preparatory to locating the best point for the power house, which is to be of brick and to be built by contract from plans already made. It will probably be located where the slab shed now sets. The whole outlay will be rising $60,000, and it is planned to have everything completed by Oct. 1st. Under the condition of the purchase Mr. Weston is to occupy the saw mill for a term of three years.

All practicable suggestions relative to road building and repairing pertinent at all times and too great a circulation among readers cannot be given to them. This from the Deering street commissioner seems to be of that class: If the street commissioner would make a note of the places in the roads that break up in the spring, and then as soon as possible put a blind drain made of broken stone and small rocks or tile of good size through those places, and give them a good cutter, he will have a piece of road that will not trouble him again for many years, and by following that course for a few years he will have his roads well drained and passable at all seasons of the year, and they can be kept in good repair for about one-half that undrained roads can. The usual course in the country is to pile on sand or gravel just to make it passable for the time being, and the next spring do the very same thing, or if there is no gravel handy, pile on brush so that every spring we look back and cannot see any improvement in our roads and we never shall until we have our roads thoroughly underdrained.

THE FRUIT SEASONS.

Something About Bananas and Lemons—Sprups and Other Chewing Gums.

The fruit market is most decidedly subject to the weather and other attendant circumstances, peculiarly climatic. Did you ever think of that? remarked a dealer. There is seldom a time when there isn't something or, at least, somebody that is affecting the prices directly or indirectly.

Of course the contemplation of a bunch of bananas means but little to the unacquainted but there is always a tale of some kind that goes with it. For instance, as is generally known, bananas are running rather high this season on account of the Cuban war, and the variety of the fruit, the red skinned ones, known as the Baracoas, which comes from the west end of the island of Cuba, are not on the market at all this year. Perhaps you have noticed that.

"How are they in quality?" was asked.

"They are generally up to the standard. They come in different grades, of course, like everything else. There are the 9-handers, that is, those that come with eight clusters on the stalk; then one grade better, the 10-handers, and better still the facetes.

"Fruit has its regular seasons. The oranges, while they have their stock demand whenever available, have given away to bananas, which now are feeling to some extent the abundance of strawberries on the market—by the abundance I mean rather the seasonable supply, for I do not know that they are more plenty than usual. The weather has been cool for keeping fruit and to some extent this has made it cheaper. That's a natural course of events. This same weather has doubly affected the price of lemons, cutting them down very much, and lemons are at present very cheap. For the very coolness of spring and early summer, up to date, has decreased the consumption of this fruit, used so much as it is in drinks of various kinds, aside from the hard-to-beat mixture which bears its name."

While hardly in that class, the d

LOCAL MATTERS.

Many fine men passed through Bangor Friday morning on their way to Moosehead lake for a stay.

Quite a number of Bangor people attended the funeral of the late Joseph H. Farrington in Brewer yesterday.

The members of the junior class of the High School will give a reception to the senior class at Society Hall on the evening of June 8.

The athletic field day of the University of Maine to have been held yesterday was again postponed to this afternoon on account of the weather.

We are informed that the case against Walter K. Shaw, of Bangor, charged with embezzlement, has been settled, and that no further action will be taken.

Manager Murphy, of The Norombega vaudeville company, will take some of his artists to Orono Monday for an entertainment there in the evening at Town Hall.

F. E. Cunningham's drive has reached Chesuncook lake and the men on the drive returned Friday. The logs are to be driven from Chesuncook with the West Branch drive.

The Oldtown Indians are leaving for the summer resorts to carry on their usual business of disposing of their wares to the summer visitors. One party has gone to Magnolia Beach, Mass.

The Y. M. C. A. hand tennis court was completed yesterday afternoon and tried. It was found to work very successfully and will be frequently used by the members for exercise, amusement and tennis practice.

Mr. John T. Clark, of Oak & Clark, on Friday morning, at the salmon pool, landed a fine salmon. Messrs. Willey and Blesett each caught a salmon at the pool Friday forenoon. They were sold to Flett's market.

A party arranged by Dr. A. C. Hamlin, of this city, has gone to Moosehead lake to pass a few days. They were met at Greenville and taken to the Crow's Nest, where they will make their headquarters, by a special steamer.

In the municipal court on Friday afternoon Charles Goodwin, for assault and battery upon Bert Knowles at Ingalls' Siding, in October, 1895, was arraigned before Judge Vose. He was fined $5 and costs, or $46.05, which he paid.

John F. Robinson, Esq., has been presented with a handsome office desk by the members of the day police force for his services in presenting their case to the Municipal Officers in the recent proposition to alternate the service of the day and night forces.

A Bangor man who has kept an account finds that there were 28 rainy or unpleasant days out of the 31 in May. It is doubtful if a more disagreeable month of May was ever experienced. Planting has been set back the roads have been kept in fearful condition and people have been kept growling and snarling like a cage of hyenas.

At the annual commencement exercises held in Tremont Temple Wednesday afternoon 223 young men and women were graduated from Boston University. Among the graduates were the following: Marion L. Chamberlain, of Bangor; Cecil E. Jurd Harmony; Robert J. Sprague, Frankfort; Charles F. Smith, East Dixmont; Everett Jones Corinna; Merle E. Collins, Rockland.

Each member of the festival chorus who had tickets to sell for the concert is requested to make returns for the same as promptly as possible to Mrs. H. L. Jewell, 179 Pine street. All tickets not disposed of should be returned at once. Seven hundred were distributed among the members. Over 200 have not yet accounted for. All members are responsible for the number whether disposed of or not.

The funeral services of the late Patrick Gilday were held at St. John's Catholic church Friday morning at 8.30 o'clock and many friends of the deceased attended. Requiem high mass was celebrated and the pall bearers were Hess B. Dennis O'Brien, Jeremiah Sullivan, Robert McGilvery and Timothy Buckley. Flanigan Bros. had charge of the funeral arrangements and the interment was at Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

The Ricker brook culvert on the Bangor & Aroostook railroad is about completed and when finished the last of four on the railroad above Milo junction will be done. Instead of the wooden structures across Ricker, Pearce, Livermore and Hamilton brooks, the new culverts are made of granite and are arched. They come within a few feet of the track and are filled with gravel, thus giving a continuous stretch of track.

The schooner Isaiah K. Stetson, of Bangor, Capt. Trask, has arrived in St. John, N. B., from Mayaguez, with a cargo of molasses, for shipment to Fredericton. The run up was made in fifteen days, with fairly good weather. The Stetson landed in St. John the second mate and six sailors belonging to the bark Jose D. Bueno, of New York, which was wrecked at Mediahuna, near Cabrerajo, early in the month of May. The Bueno was on her way from Port Spain to New York when she was lost. On their arrival in St. John the shipwrecked crew called on U. S. consul Derby. One of the men, L. Kellar, who says he once worked there in connection with one of the express companies, was sent to his home at Rockland. The others will be forwarded to their homes by steamer.

Frank Sargent and Bert Maleom, of Newport, who, with Nellie Eaton, were arraigned before Trial Justice W. H. Mitchell, in Newport on Thursday, and were discharged from an accusation of robbery and assault upon the person of Michael Joseph, of Bangor, will have another hearing in Bangor. It will be remembered that Joseph passed a night at the Maleom house while there. He is a peddler and has his headquarters in Bangor. He claims he has been assaulted on Wednesday morning and shows wounds upon his face. He also says that he was robbed of $14. On Thursday, in Newport, nothing was proven against the prisoners. Joseph, dissatisfied with his Newport trial, came to Bangor and consulted W. Y. Patch, Esq., on Friday. Later they consulted Judge Vose who issued a warrant for robbery and assault, and Deputy Sheriff George E. Clark was called to serve it on Sargent and Maleom. The second hearing of this case will occur this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Bangor Municipal Court room.

For sale by Ara Warren.

St. Albans, Me., April 24, 1897.—I received the Rainy Day Puzzle, sent for three trade-marks from Hood's Sarsaparilla, and eight cents in stamps, and am very much pleased with it. I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier and tonic, and a remedy for that tired feeling, and have found it very beneficial. My sister is taking it for scrofula humor.—Mrs. John N. Cool.

Hood's Pills cure nausea, sick headache, indigestion, biliousness. All druggists, 25c.

A man reported to the police last night that he thought he had been robbed of $10 or $15 in a saloon. The police looked into the matter but the man's story was rather vague.

A river driver named Smith reported to the police Friday that he had been robbed of $55 at the Waverly House on Washington street the night before, at least he called it robbery. He said he went to sleep with the money in his possession but awakened without it. The police are working on the case.

The executive committee of the Maine Board of Agriculture will meet at the Bangor House, Tuesday evening, for the discussion of regular matters of interest to the farmers, including dairy matters, etc., and plan for the work of the year. Institutes will be held in Hancock and Washington county very extensively the coming season.

THE TEMPERATURE.

Atmospheric Conditions as Shown by Methodical Observations.

The following table gives the weather conditions as shown by the thermometer and barometer at Miller's pharmacy:

June 4,	Barometer.	Thermometer.
7 A.M.	29.7	54
12 M.	29.7	69
6 P.M.	29.71	63

AMUSEMENTS.

Rice's Comedians.

Rice's Comedians were again well received at the Opera House yesterday afternoon and last evening, when the play was "In the Trenches." This afternoon the company will present "All in the Family" and will close its engagement in Bangor on Saturday evening when "Daniel Boone" will be the play. The plays include pleasing specialties.

Vaudeville at The Norombega.

Last evening Manager Murphy's vaudeville company again presented the musical farce, "O'Reilley's Reception" at The Norombega before the usual good sized audience. The different vaudeville acts were successfully given. This afternoon a matinee will be given and an excellent opportunity is afforded for ladies to see the Ramsey sisters, the Marsh trio, the Fielings, Holmes and Oletta and others.

The Sages, Hypnotists.

On Monday evening the Sages, hypnotists, will open a week's engagement at the Opera House. The performance is an exhibition of hypnotism. They show subjects who cannot open their eyes, speak their names, bend their arms or legs, take their hands apart, close their mouths or keep from talking. They show a balloon ascension without any balloon, a man riding on a chair for a horse, bicycle races without bicycles, yacht races without yachts, a prize fight where nobody is hit, a game of cards where the devil plays a royal flush, and a base ball game that puts the champions to shame. They have exhibited before large audiences in all places visited.

Base Ball Notes.

Two Maine College League games will be played today. University of Maine will play Bowdoin at Brunswick and Colby will play Bates at Lewiston. The league games are nearly completed. Bowdoin has only the U. of M. and Bates games; U. of M. has the Bowdoin and two Colby games; Colby two Bates and two U. of M. games and Bates a Bowdoin and two Colby games.

The present standing, which will be changed today, is as follows:

	Won	Lost	Played	Per cent.
Bowdoin	3	1	4	.750
Colby	1	1	2	.500
U. of M.	2	1	3	.333
Bates	1	2	3	.333

No decision has yet been announced regarding the game between Colby and Bowdoin, which is given above as a Colby victory, but which was protested in writing by Bowdoin before the game on account of the unfit condition of the grounds.

"Why is it that a left-handed pitcher should be effective against south-paw batters?" is a question often asked. "Should not right-handed pitcher be equally effective against right-handed batsmen?" is the argumentative query so often put with the first question. The answer is easy. Left-handed batsmen are trained to strike against right-handed pitching, and get but little practice against out-curves—the easiest pitched of all the "queer" balls in a pitcher's outfit. The usual out curve of a right-handed pitcher is an in curve for them. Some pitchers essay fooling them with an "in shoot," or curve to the left; but few of the twirlers have a very wide sweep. The consequence is that a left-handed striker meets with straight balls and in curves. When a left-handed pitcher opposes him he is easily fooled by out curves and drops.

Little Geier has been hitting the ball like a good one of late.

That shake up in Fall River should be productive of good results.

Walter Woods, who has been doing good work as a pitcher for Springfield, is to be tried behind the bat.

E. L. Breckenridge has been appointed a New England League umpire. He has had several good offers to play ball, but prefers to accept the position that has been tendered him. He should make a success in his new field.

Cycle Notes.

It has been the custom for years for manufacturers to bring out their new models at the time of the cycle shows but at last the rule has been broken.

This is the season for beginners in cycling and here are some good suggestions from an instructor who is regarded as one of the best in the metropolis: 1. Grasp the handle-bars lightly and do not stiffen the muscles of the arms or shoulders. 2. Turn the wheel gently in the direction in which you feel you are falling; never jerk it. 3. Do not be afraid to bear down on the pedals, the faster you go the more easily you will find it to control your wheel. 4. Always look ahead, or rather toward the point to which you wish to go; if you look down you are almost sure to get "rattled" and if you fix a terror-stricken gaze on any object you wish to avoid you almost sure to run it down.

Tax Rate of $1.90.

A meeting of the finance committee of the city government was held yesterday afternoon to arrange for the appropriations for the year. We are informed that all the departments were given what they asked for and some more than they have received; that $120,000 was put down for the water works extension; a building fund of $15,000 established for the fire department, hose houses and repairs, and $42,500 put on as a surplus fund. With all these taken into account it made the tax rate for this year $1.90 on every $100 worth of property. The finance committee will report to the city government at the regular meeting next Tuesday evening, when action will be taken upon it.

The Kennebec Heat & Light Co. officials at Gardiner says that they expect lots of kicking, for it's human nature to kick, but they had rather have the kicking directly against them personally than against the lamp posts and lights themselves, for it was a vigorous kick and pull by an enthusiastic Farmingdale citizen that sent the city into pitch darkness Wednesday night.

The State Department is investigating the firing on the Ward liner Valencia by a Spanish cruiser. The Valencia was new to the line and the Spanish officers did not know her. The firing was within the three mile limit.

WHO WILL WIN?

Bangor Boys Leave for Brunswick on Friday Afternoon.

To Participate in the Maine Inter-Scholastic Meet There To-day.

On the 1.40 p. m. train which left Bangor Friday were the Bangor High School athletic team, numbering twenty, and a party of eight or ten friends, all being bound for Brunswick where the seventh annual meet of the Maine Inter-Scholastic Association will be held this afternoon upon Whittier field, Bowdoin College, one of the finest athletic fields in New England.

The team went to Brunswick the day before in order to avoid the tiresome forenoon's travel which would be necessary if the boys waited until this morning. J. H. Horne, of Bowdoin, who has been training the team during the past month, went over Thursday night to make arrangement for the coming of the team.

The team is made up of Hunt, captain; Snow, Pierce, Thompson, Nutter, Bowen, Bragg, Smith, Lyon, Sturtevant, Bailey, Morrison, Wing, Swett, Woodcock, Margesson, A. Conners, J. Conners, Sawyer, Cutter, Stone, Dugan, Hamlin, Webber, French, Burrill, Glass, Martin, Harlow, Thoma and Wyer. The Whig has previously given the list of entries.

The meet promises to be very exciting this year. Secretary Blaine Owen, of Augusta, says that the entries are very large from the several schools represented, and that there is every promise of an interesting day. The railroads have arranged for half fare for the occasion.

The Coney High School will not compete this year. It has 19 men entered, but none of them will probably compete. The schools in the association are: Coney, Bangor, Portland, Lewiston, Brunswick, Coburn Classical Institute, Hebron and Bath schools.

The events will commence at 2 o'clock.

The fine Bowdoin cinder quarter mile track will enable the young athletes to break records if the weather is good. The heavy time decided upon, to impose on all contestants with any savor of professionalism, will keep the contests free from outsiders.

Who will win?

That will not be known until this evening. It looks as though the fight would be between Portland, Hebron, Coburn Classical Institute and Bangor with Brunswick High School as a dark horse. Portland has been coached by the famous Harvard hurdler, Mr. Garceloon; Hebron has had the benefit of the training of Mr. Kendall, Bowdoin's rapid hurdler, and Bangor has had Mr. Horne, who has done most excellent work.

Portland has some good hurdlers, dash men and long distance runners and will send down a big team. Hebron has Sullivan, formerly of Portland, who is sure to win points in the runs, and some strong hammer and shot men. Coburn will depend on its dash runners and also has some good ones. Bath has a fine high jumper, and Brunswick two all round men who will take points. They are Dunlap and Furbish. One supporter of the Brunswick High school has gone so far as to state that Brunswick is going to win the meet and that Dunlap is going to do it alone with 23 points.

The Bangor team was in good condition when it left and it was felt that it would be well up among the leaders, provided no surprises were sprung.

With either Portland or Bangor as the winner today the cup will go permanently to the team which has the more points, both having won twice.

All cyclists know that ruts in the highways are dangerous. An Auburn wheelman was a victim to the treacherous rut at Lake Auburn Sunday. He was wheeling past the East Auburn end of the lake when his wheel struck a rut which might have cost him his life. He was thrown from his bike headlong into the lake. To use the expression of a spectator, "he went in all over." He got out all right.

THE FESTIVAL.

Two Thousand Dollars Raised Already Without Any Effort.

Meeting of the Finance Committee on Friday Evening.

The finance committee of the Maine Festival held another meeting last evening at the Common Council room, City Hall. The reports of the members showed that already the sum of $2,000 had been subscribed towards the $10,000 needed, without any effort whatever, which looks as though there would not be the least difficulty in getting all that is desired.

It was decided to later on publish a list of the name of the subscribers to the stock but not the amounts.

Dr. E. T. Wasgatt and Miss Louise Thompson were added to the committee, which now consists of the following:

President C. S. Pearl, of the Board of Trade; Mayor Beal, Hon. J. P. Bass, Julius Waterman, M. H. Andrews, G. W. E. Barrows, J. F. Crowley, Mrs. H. L. Jewell, Mrs. F. L. Tuck, Mrs. G. M. Brown, Mrs. W. A. Nelson, Miss Garland, Miss Hemenway, Dr. T. U. Coe, Col. I. K. Stetson, F. W. Cram, E. C. Nichols, C. C. Emerson, George S. Silsby, S. H. Boardman, J. L. Parker, W. F. Curran, A. L. Boyd, Mrs. E. T. Wasgatt, Mrs. D. Henderson, Mrs. Isabel B. Chase, Dr. E. T. Wasgatt and Miss Louise Thompson, of Bangor, and Mayor B. B. Merrill, W. I. Bunker and Miss Emily Merrill, of Brewer.

Another meeting of the committee will be held next Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the same place and all the members are requested to be present. Active work is to be begun at once to secure the full subscription to the stock. Rehearsals of the chorus will be held at regular intervals in order that new choruses may be prepared and the chorus kept in good working order. It will be increased to 200 members at once.

To Niagara Falls.

No finer trip to Niagara Falls will be offered this season than that afforded by the tour of the Maine Epworth Leagues to their International convention at Toronto, which opens July 15. Those who participate in this tour will have the grand scenery of the White Mountains, a day in Montreal filled with sight seeing, four days' tarry at Toronto and one day at Niagara. This, with Pullman sleeper berth, is included in the $23.50 which the tickets cost. In addition to this the tickets may be extended until August 31st, allowing the members of the party to take all the time they may choose at Niagara, Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa or in the White Mountains.

It is the best trip for the money yet announced.

THE SHERIFF ESCAPED.

Left by the Back Door of the Jail At Urbana, Ohio.

Claims Dynamite was Prepared to Blow Him up—Great Excitement Prevails.

Governor Bushnell Arrived to Investigate the Action of the Troops.

Urbana, Ohio, June 4. Gov. Bushnell arrived tonight to investigate the lynching trouble and the action of the troops.

Citizens from Urbana asked for protection by the troops of Sheriff McLean, against whose life threats had been freely made during the afternoon, and if he was here tonight it is believed there would be serious trouble.

Sheriff McLean left this afternoon for Dayton. He escaped by the back door of the jail and claims that dynamite was being prepared to blow him up.

In the excitement and bitterness that prevails tonight it is almost impossible to get at the facts as to the responsibility for the loss of life, but it is generally claimed that Sheriff McLean ordered the troops to fire.

In the shooting last night two men were killed and nine wounded.

In Serious Condition.

Columbus, Ohio, June 4. A special to the Dispatch from Urbana, Ohio says:

Mrs. Gaumer, upon whom the negro committed the assault which led to the lynching, is lying at her home in a critical condition and is praying for death.

She received the news of the lynching with every manifestation of satisfaction but expressed regret for the killing of innocent people at the jail last night.

RECALL OF WEYLER.

Selection of New Governor of Cuba, Main Quest on at Issue in Spanish Crisis.

Madrid, June 4. The main question at issue in the present crisis is the selection of a new governor of Cuba capable of convincing the people that Spain is in earnest in colonial reforms.

The impression gains that rather than see the liberals in office the conservatives would consent to recall Weyler. It is believed Marshal Campos will replace him.

And the Band Played On.

Livermore Fall, Me., June 4. At a ball held here by the Foresters, a prize was offered to the lady who waltzed longest without stopping. Twelve couples began waltzing at 12 23 a. m., and it was 5 45 a. m. before Miss Bessie McGraw, the winner and her partner, stopped waltzing.

This breaks the State and New England record, it is said.

Buildings and Animals Burned.

Augusta, Me., June 4. A special from Montville, says a fire of a mysterious origin started in the barn of W. P. White at 7 a. m. Thursday and destroyed all his buildings, and four horses, four cows, two swine, a calf, hens, wagons, harnesses and farming tools.

Fought a Draw.

New York, June 4. Eddie Connolly, of St. Malin, N. B., and Jack Daly, of Wilmington, Del., fought 20 rounds at 135 pounds to a draw in the arena of the Broadway A. C. tonight.

ALL OVER THE STATE.

Here is a very, very old story, dressed up in the dress of a locality, the production of which seems to be one of the sad results of the continued rainy weather. The story of a turkey gobbler who got himself so plainly intoxicated and paid high for his experience, was recently given out by one who says he knows, and says, moreover, that what he says he knows is true. An Augusta family made cherry rum and consumed the same, about a barrel full, every year. It was made in the spring and in the fall, when the rum had been used up, the good woman of the house old went to the barn yard and turned the cherries, which had lodged in the bottom of the jug, out upon the ground. A turkey gobbler, a gay old bird, chanced to pass that way and forthwith feasted upon cherries damp with rum. He was soon a disgrace to himself and the other inhabitants of the yard. Haughty at all times, in his exhilarated condition he was arrogant and was lord over all. His "chick, chick, welph, wobbble" was heard on the air, and those of the other birds who didn't care to salute him took good precaution to keep out of his sight. But an end came to all this. When the reaction settled down the gay old gobbler's mind he laid down on his back, all used up, and his head ached. Soon his legs were in the air, vainly kicking he know not what at nor did the other birds, who stood around to wonder to see the mighty fallen so low. Then all the good woman of the house had him. He was then at ease and she thought him dead. She pulled his feathers out for stuffing. She was called away for awhile. To her surprise, on her return, the old sport had come to his senses, and although a little unsteady in his walk was still at there bubble feathers. He was put back into the yard, and on account of his disgraceful appearance not one of his fellows, so recently obstreperous, would have a word to say to him.

There was a narrow escape from a serious accident at the College avenue crossing, Waterville, Wednesday night. When the afternoon train was about to go over the crossing, a team containing an unknown man and woman came up the street and crossed the track directly ahead of the engine. The engineer saw the danger and applied the brakes to the train, reducing the speed as quickly as possible, but the pilot of the engine caught the rear wheels of the carriage and turned it half around, but by some good fortune no damage was done. When the engine struck the carriage the woman covered her face with her shawl probably expecting to be jarred to her death. When no damage resulted the team drove on and no harm was done, came so near meeting with an accident.

Wednesday afternoon a lady with two children was enjoying the breezes of Deering park. One of the children was a girl of perhaps a dozen years, the other a babe in a carriage. The girl left the baby in the care of the child while she conversed with a neighbor whom she met, when by some mishap toward accident, the carriage got loose from the keeper, and rolled and rolled toward the edge of the pond. A frightened scream from the girl left in charge was quickly followed by shrieks from the mother, who started frantically towards the flying carriage, but it was not in time. The carriage, body and all, rolled into the water, but it landed far enough to do no harm. It was the hand of Special Officer Sawyer that stretched forth and the baby, unconscious of the danger, had been quickly rescued from a watery grave.

An important decision of the request made by the Hon. Joseph P. Farrington, of Portland, has been rendered by the supreme court. By Mr. Farrington's will two-thirds of the residue of his estate, after certain bequests were paid, was to go to the Maine Eye and Ear Infirmary of that city, to be devoted to charitable purposes. Mr. Farrington's heirs brought a bill in equity to restrain the executors from paying the bequest to the infirmary, on the ground that the infirmary could not hold property to the extent of $100,000. They asked that the property so devised be distributed to the heirs. The decree court decided that no one but the State could raise the point and that the heirs had no standing in court in this matter. The law court has just rendered a decision upholding the contention of the defendants. The amount involved is about $200,000. The opinion was drawn by Chief Justice Peters.
